- 7.4 We also disclose your personal information with people and organisations that help us with our business, such as professional advisors, IT support, and corporate and administrative services.
- 7.5 As at the date this privacy policy was most recently updated, your personal information will not be disclosed overseas.

8. Direct Marketing

- 8.1 When you provide your personal details to us, you consent to us using your personal information for direct marketing purposes (for an indefinite period).
- 8.2 From time to time, we may contact you with information about products or services offered by us, our related entities and our business partners or clients, which we think may be of interest to you. When we contact you, it may be by mail, telephone, email, our contractor portal or SMS.
- 8.3 Where we use or disclose your personal information for the purpose of direct marketing, we will:
 - a. allow you to 'opt out' or in other words, allow you to request not to receive direct marketing communications; and
 - b. comply with a request by you to 'opt out' of receiving further communications within a reasonable time frame.
- 8.4 We will only ever contact you if you have consented to direct marketing, and you can ask to be removed from our marketing lists at any time by directly contacting us. If you don't wish to receive direct marketing materials, contact our Privacy Officer using the details set out at the end of the Privacy Policy.

9. Security of your Personal Information

- 9.1 We will use all reasonable efforts to ensure that the information you provide us remains private and take all reasonable steps to protect your personal information from misuse, loss or unauthorised access, modification or disclosure.
- 9.2 Where we store your personal information electronically, for example on our document management system, there are restrictions as to who has access to that information through file permissions and password protection. We have firewalls, intrusion detection and virus scanning tools to help prevent viruses, malware and unauthorised people accessing our systems.
- 9.3 We use a mix of Identification cards, alarms and cameras and other controls to protect our offices. All hardcopies of personal information are stored in lockable filing cabinets.
- 9.4 Although we take all reasonable measures, we are not responsible for third party circumvention of security measures on our electronic databases or at any of our premises. Please note that third party recipients of personal information may have their own privacy policies and we are not responsible for their actions, including their handling of personal information. We cannot control the actions of other users with whom you share your information. Further, we cannot guarantee that only authorised persons will access your personal information and cannot guarantee that information you share with us on our website or contractor portal will not become publicly available.
- 9.5 Please notify our Privacy Officer immediately if you believe there has been any unauthorised access to your information.
- 9.6 When your personal information is no longer needed for a purpose for which it was collected, and no applicable law requires us to retain that information, then we will take all reasonable steps to destroy or permanently de-identify it.

10. How to access, correct or update your Personal Information

- 10.1 You may request access to personal information that we have collected from you, by writing to our Privacy Officer (see below). Upon your request, we will provide access to your personal information within a reasonable timeframe, except in certain circumstances as permitted under the Privacy Act. If we deny access, we will give you written reasons for this decision.
- 10.2 We will not charge for access to your personal information, unless your request is complex or incurs archive retrieval fees.
- 10.3 We will use reasonable steps to ensure the personal information we hold is complete, up to date and accurate, so far as it is practicable for us to do so. If you think that the personal information that we hold about you is incorrect or out of date, please contact our Privacy Officer (see below).
- 10.4 Subject to paragraph 8.6, if personal information we hold about you is incorrect, we will, on your request to correct it and where we are satisfied that the information is inaccurate, out of date, incomplete, irrelevant or misleading, take such steps as are reasonable in the circumstances to ensure that the information is corrected.
- 10.5 If you wish to have your personal information deleted, please let us know and we will delete the information wherever practicable. If we become aware that your personal information is no longer needed for any of our purposes, we will take reasonable steps to de-identify or destroy it.
- 10.6 If you request us to correct personal information that we hold about you and we refuse to do so, we will, to the extent reasonable, provide you a written response as to our reasons.
